spiritualities. The question that arises is how is it that we have come to see all our values and spiritualities as being things of Satan? The black man eventually defended the Bible as if it were more important than his life itself. Whence comes this almost incomprehensible devotion to a religion and a god that have been imposed upon us? To say that Jesus is God is to give reason to everything that has been done to us. It is in the name of Jesus that all this evil has been done. We refuse to see the truth and continue to submit to the Bible verses that tell us to listen to our masters. Jesus became more important than our ancestors. All these pastors, full of energy when we must speak of the Bible, do not see them weeping for our ancestors or lamenting for them; On the contrary, we shall even believe that it was a good thing in their eyes that our ancestors were uprooted. How is it that we accept to be treated like madmen who have never known God? Let us awake, brothers and sisters, do not let us be intimidated by those who think that we are savages and have no esteem for them. We shall conquer prejudices, and we shall be free, I promise you.

The African Chritianis is a dangerous igorant. Religion has only one goal, to control minds and behaviors it is a political issue, Jesus and Mahomed have to be arrested, here are people who have the pretense of having seen God and who are at the head of the Religions Jesus or manhood is a pure and simple mental heresy. Africa has lived 33 centuries without Christianity and other religions. All these religions must come out of Africa without any form of process. Thank you.

+ Mokonzi2K6 Europeans and Arabs took sacred texts in Egypt and trafficked them into a weapon of manipulation and destruction of abors on their peoples and afterwards on the blacks. But I can neither agree with the pastor nor be in agreement with the bwiti priest. 1. Revealed religions form people to have only a vision of things and if one exceeds the limit: it is the sanction! Akhenaten tried to put all D'Amon priests under his vision by revealing that there was only one god, and he failed! 2. Traditional beliefs emphasize ancestral practices. To practice them you have to be initiated. But how does, For example an American black to practice ancestral things if his ancestors are at sea do or buried anywhere in the usa? An African can be initiated in the village because in Africa the Ancestors are not far. * Knowing that every people has its own temperament, I find it not very holy to put all Peoples under the same belief! (Revealed Religions). * Knowing that the Ancestors were unable to PROTECT their wives and children from the slavery of Arabs and Europeans, their ancestral practices could not do anything to annihilate the aggressors of Africa! Africa for me can not be UNITE Perhaps in thousand years, Do not forget that Europe has begun to attack for millennia before being able to conquer the continent in Whole! * Knowing that each people has its own temperament, I find it not very holy to put all the Peoples under the same belief! Mokonzi2K6 Imagination is not synonymous with Truth! The African of today is of Christian or Muslim culture, (it's the story that wanted it to please you or not), Mastained of ancestral beliefs (sorcery, like the Europeans with the freemasonry , pink Cross....). It would suffice to take up the Egyptian texts and translate them for the whole of Africa by REALIZING the original names and prophecies! The Europeans matted the Africans with a FALSE BOOK, the Africans could mate the Europeans with TRUE BOOKS !!

I know, but nothing prevents one from dreaming. Sixty years ago, blacks were still hanged in the USA. 100 years ago slavery still reigned. But with all this, a black was US president for 8 years. Some had thought like you. It will never happen. And it happened. Then, know that there will be, indeed, an African renaissance. Sooner or later it will happen. And Africa will come out of it.

Fatou Bintou Wade. It is true that you can not understand, because you are the perfect prototype of this lobotomization of the brain of the black man. Also know, that I do not mean to forbid religion in the broad sense. I focus on the imported religions, Islam, Judaism and Christianity simply. I do not question religion in themselves, but the religion seen by the Africans, with the eyes of Arabs, Jewish or white. Otherwise I understand the meaning of your words, for our ancestors were never pagans, they worshiped god, but neither Muslim nor Christian. Must have the courage to notify. Also that African ancestral religion remains more complex and precise than the three present religions. Why not go back to the source! The original is better than the copies, moreover, negrophobic.

+ Fatou Bintou Wade, what you've been doing since your childhood. God says, god says etc ... Do you have any proof of what you are advancing? And again, the language in which of the say that god says, is it your tongue ??? I do not need Islam or Christianity to be aware of the notion of the divine. My ancestors have inculcated in my genes. I do not see the utility of following the religion, tradition of other peoples to believe in god. It is on this fact that I insist. Good, but everyone is free to choose. Then in this case, come not tell us that god says, because it is false, since god never spoke to you. You should have said it; I was told to say since my childhood that God said It is more just like that. What to affirm that god says in the Quran You know your Koran concerns only the Muslims. Two billion asians do not care, As the Muslims do not care about Shintoism, or Buddhism. That is the reality. Islam is only in the world of Muslims, and not universal. Whatever X, when I speak of African religions, I speak without paying attention to the fact that some are distorted today, for harmful purposes. If not go back to the maat is not that bad.

Veridic Aleph my brother, it is not here to eradicate Christianity, nor to re-carry Islam, impossible project and knives alive. But rather to "redefine the right" as Mbog Bassong said. The world is complex, so Africa is so complex. In encesstral Africa, there have been many people who have cohabited in symbiosis with each one its space and its territory. Do we not read in the Egyptian religion that order and disorder exists juxtaposed and that it is thanks to the Maat that the balance is made? This is what must happen, we are human beings to oter of reason we must sit down and discuss to find agreements. Since, first of all, whether the 42 commandments or the 10 commandments, all this comes back to the same thing:

No tradition is universal. Let us stop wishing to impose religions from elsewhere. For any human who claims to be a believer, one of the best proofs of belief is to accept the will of God, which is to have created us in a people, a tradition, a particular geographical place ... Accept our Africinity It is useless to pretend to try to be what we are not at the bottom of us.

If a religion is the true then, God being unique, this religion is universal. It adapts to any language and culture, without rejecting them, but enlightening and sublimating them. This is the case of authentic Christianity.

The bible has never been the basis of all the traditions of the world, Africa is the cradle of humanity therefore black man existed before Christianity and ancient Egypt is the basis of Western civilization By the Greek (Cleopatra) the Bible was a tool to alienate Africans Africa is intelligent with its invisible beliefs that are part of an exceptional heritage imaged. Sorcery is ultimately a form of intelligence: one feeds on vegetables (fruits, vegetables, roots and seeds) which feed us then why not consume decoctions of leaves or roots that some take for protection that are food by procuring the health ! This debate is unnecessary because of the confusion. In all civilizations there have been many gods ... In Africa God is designated by a name wanted by each people: in my god is Nyambé.

Hello my sister, as you say, the mental alienation of our people is the source of our problem. The ways of living of the spiritual peoples like Amerindians, Africans, Aborigines, Mayans, etc., have all been fought by a mentality that did not want spirituality. Christianity has succeeded in placing itself in a single religion. We must find our values and our spiritualities to finally be free. Exactly, always say "the Bible to say" "according to the Bible" "jean: 1" never they reflect on their own and that is the problem. It is virtually impossible to talk to them about our ancestors, for our ancestors were idolaters. We have to get rid of this. Hold my sister, I do not have his contact but you can find videos about him,
